

Unit 4 Topic 2.3 Page 119

Activity: Research

Alternatives to prison

Learning objective

At the end of this activity, you should be able to:

- evaluate the effectiveness of non-custodial sentences compared with custodial sentences.

Using the link below, complete questions 1 to 6 that follow. <https://blogs.lse.ac.uk/politicsandpolicy/alternatives-to-custody/>

1. In which cases are non-custodial sentences found to be an effective alternative to prison?
2. What is a key advantage of non-custodial sentences?
3. Why is it difficult to measure the performance of public services?
4. What is a further problem of trying to determine sentence effectiveness?
5. For the following crimes, briefly outline the difference in crime reduction brought about by non-custodial sentences as compared with custodial sentences:
 - a) property crime
 - b) violence
 - c) sexual offences
 - d) robbery.
6. Briefly explain what the results of the research suggest.